Since 1978, Kovar's Satori Academy of Martial Arts has worked closely with educators, schools, and organizations. This two-week course focuses on character development, child safety and basic self defense. Classes are held at Kovar's Martial Arts academies or live and virtual from your own home. Twice each week, students learn a variety of skills including goal setting and perseverance that will develop their confidence and bring out their very best at home, at school and in all areas of their lives.

Parent Comments

The only call I've received from the principal came a few months ago after my son, who is a Kovar's brown belt, was punched by a classmate (unprovoked). The principal commended the way he used his words and didn't physically retaliate (though he was prepared to defend himself). I told the principal that I credit Kovar's with teaching him how to diffuse a tense situation, and (most importantly) how to exhibit self-control. Suzanne S. – Granite Bay

I was amazed at the enthusiasm and teaching skills of your staff. The kids had a great time learning valuable safety skills. Ken C. – Elk Grove

WHERE KIDS LEARN... AWARENESS, AVOIDANCE, AND ASSERTIVENESS

A great way to raise funds for your organization and help your child on their path to success.

Hanshi Dave Kovar founded Martial Artists Against Bullying (MAAB) because no other industry is in a better position to do something about bullying than the martial arts industry. Research shows that bullying peaks in the 5th, 6th and 7th grades. Our goal is to minimize the first signs of predatory behavior in elementary and middle school-aged children, through role playing, small group discussions, and empathy training. Together we can help children of all ages overcome the negative impact of bullying.
